ABUSE, BULLYING AND HARASSMENT (GENERAL)

Foundations in Preventing Abuse in Youth Organizations

45 min – This course replaces Meet SAM and It Happened To Me

Child Sexual Abuse is a significant problem, but it does not have to happen. Training like this is an important step to prevent a child from being abused and suffering adverse effects. In this training you will learn to:

- Identify red-flag behaviors
- Manage high-risk situations
- Respond to and report red-flag behaviors and suspected abuse

Provider: Praesidium

Duty to Report: Mandated Reporter

25 – 45 minutes – All Employees and Volunteers

Adults have a moral responsibility—and in many cases a legal responsibility—to report suspected child abuse or neglect.

Participants learn:

- Why reporting is critical
- What their legal obligation is to report
- What types of conduct must be reported
- How to report
- How to respond if a child discloses abuse or neglect

**PA compliant version also available*

Provider: Praesidium

Abuse Risk Management for Volunteers

25 – 45 minutes – Low Access Volunteers

Volunteers give their precious time to their organization to serve others. They need to know how to protect those they serve from abuse.

Participants learn:

- The facts about sexual abuse
- Steps they can take to keep kids safe
- How to protect themselves from false allegations of abuse

Provider: Praesidium

Preventing Sexual Activity between Young Children

25 – 45 minutes – Employees and Volunteers Protecting Young Children

Statistics show that incidents of sexual acting out between children have increased 300% in recent years.

Participants learn:

- How – and where – sexual activity between children typically occurs
- Steps to prevent sexual activity between children
- How to respond if sexual activity between children occurs

Data Protection for Industry and Business

19 minutes – All Employees

Companies rely on a significant amount of digital data in order to function, and the security of that data can be vital. Emails, documents, and even communications through social media can put a company at risk in unexpected ways. Because there is so much data, and because it's difficult to specifically predict what data is sensitive and how it could be harmful, it is best to have some general data protection methods in place. This course is designed to provide workers with recommended procedures for protecting company data, including the creation of secure passwords and strategies for avoiding social engineering and phishing attacks. This course is designed for all workers in any industry.

EMPLOYEE DEVELOPMENT

Diversity and Inclusion in the Workplace

40 minutes – All Employees

Diversity and inclusion play important roles in the modern workplace. Employers with diverse and inclusive workforces see increased productivity and customer satisfaction. Employees at these organizations generally earn more money, feel more valued, and are comfortable disagreeing with colleagues. Employees who complete this course should be able to identify the definitions of diversity and inclusion, why they are important in the workplace, and what U.S. laws are in place to ensure diversity and inclusion. They should also be able to identify methods you can use to be inclusive in the workplace. This course is presented in English and Spanish.

Active Shooter – Run/Hide/Fight*15 minutes – All Employees

Active shooter incidents have become a growing source of concern in recent years. By their nature these situations are unpredictable and chaotic, making it difficult for employers to prepare. Even though the odds of an active shooter event occurring in the workplace are low, fears about these situations can lower employee morale and create anxiety and uncertainty for your staff. The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) recommend active shooter training for all employees to help counter these fears, and to reinforce a “whole community” approach to preventing and responding to workplace violence. Training helps employees feel prepared and empowered to respond quickly if an active shooter situation occurs on the job. This course is designed to help learners in any industry recognize recommended actions to take during an active shooter event, as well as common secondary concerns such as providing first aid for common injuries and communicating with emergency responders. This course focuses on the Run, Hide, Fight program for reacting to an active shooter situation. While Run, Hide, Fight is a good set of guidelines for active, healthy adults, it may not be suitable for all people in all situations. SafetySkills assumes no liability for any injuries or damage that could occur while attempting these techniques. This course is presented in English, Spanish, and Polish.
